Tomiya Matsuda was born in Nara prefecture and studied ceramics at the Kyoto City College of Fine Arts. He was inspired by the dynamic ceramic circles of the time in Kyoto, notably Sodeisha (Crawling through Mud Association), the influential avant-garde ceramic group founded in 1949 by Kazuo Yagi (1918-1979), Osamu Suzuki (1926 - 2001) and Hikaru Yamada (1923-2001).

Matsuda shared the same views as the innovative Sodeisha members and created sculptural works rather than traditional utilitarian pieces. He was active internationally, exhibiting at various exhibitions and teaching at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago (SAIC) as a visiting professor in 1967 and 1968. His wife Yuri Matsuda (b. 1943) is also a ceramic artist and, returning from Chicago, they moved to Oshino village in Yamanashi prefecture, at the base of Mt Fuji, where they continued to create unique works.
